

DEPUTIES ARE TOLD TO ACCEPT OR REJECT DECISIONS AS WHOLE

French Premier Says That the Best Bargain Possible Was Made for France in the Re- cent Reparations Conference—Makes Re- ply to the Criticisms of Andre Tardieu

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The French chamber of deputies today heard Premier Briand explain the negotiations at the recent reparations conference in Paris and at the same time declare the decision reached embodied the best terms obtainable for France from Germany under present conditions. The premier requested the chamber either to accept or reject the decisions as a whole. To give all the deputies who had indicated a desire to be heard an opportunity to speak before a vote is taken on the question discussion was postponed until next Tuesday.

"I have done the best that I could," said M. Briand. "If there is a man in this chamber who has a better practicable program let him come to the front."

Continues Criticism.
Previously Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner to the United States, had continued the criticism of the government on the reparations agreement begun yesterday. His argument amounted to criticism of the allied agreement. All the arguments, he said, tend to show that France was in too great a hurry and should have waited a few weeks to consult the new American administration.

M. Briand spoke for an hour and 45 minutes. His time was occupied in replying to M. Tardieu and comparing the work accomplished by the peace conference of which M. Tardieu was a member, and which, the premier said, failed to obtain better results. "The Versailles treaty is complete," exclaimed the premier, "there is nothing lacking in it—only it is not alive."

The Versailles treaty in order to be effective, M. Briand continued, must rely upon the work of the reparations commission.

In a tone in which some of the members of the chamber declared, they noted sadness, M. Briand said he realized that he had been unable to obtain as much for France as was due her owing to her great sacrifices in the war but that at any rate he had succeeded in bringing the situation out of the chaos, uncertainty and uneasiness which had obtained since the signing of the Versailles treaty.

"Know What Is Coming."
"We won't get as much as we deserve, but at least we know what we are going to get," the premier declared.

Concerning M. Tardieu's argument that the German debt should be "mobilized" and discontinued, M. Briand said:
"If there was the remotest possibility of discontinuing this debt of obligation—which is impossible, owing to the troubled condition of the world's money market, we should refuse to do so as we should lose too much on exchange. We are not prepared to pay from 12 to 14 percent discount."

The premier said that several times during the recent conference there was a possibility of the meeting and breaking up without an agreement having been reached.

"But," he declared, "now the allies are agreed and if tomorrow Germany fails to fulfill her obligation, the French government is ready and will not fail to apply the penalties which were decided upon in full accord with our allies."

M. Briand said he did not bring to the chamber an iron clad contract which parliament must accept and that he did not desire to put the chamber in the presence of an accomplished fact. The situation, he declared, was this—If the chamber approved the accord he would go to the London conference; if the chamber disapproved it then some one else must be sent.

CUSTOMS SURVEYOR ISSUES STATEMENT

Says Reports of Graft are Greatly Exaggerated—Only Two Dis- missed That Were Under Suspicion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Thomas Rush, customs surveyor of the port of New York in a statement tonight said published statements of collector of customs Newton that thirty-eight or more customs inspectors were involved in charges of graft were grossly exaggerated.

Mr. Rush declared that according to the records in his office two inspectors had been dismissed and ten were under suspicion. The alleged irregularities in the customs service was said to have resulted from the practice of inspectors accepting gratuities from incoming steamship passengers in a hurry to get their baggage by, and grew until it was thought some inspectors were operating on a larger scale and passing dutiable articles.

Amounts of $1 to $200 were declared by Collector Newton to have been given the inspectors.

PRESIDENT-ELECT IS NOW ON LAST LEG OF JOURNEY

House Boat Victoria Has Been Headed for St. Augustine

STOPPED FIVE HOURS AT PALM BEACH

(By The Associated Press)
PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4.—After a five hour stop at Palm Beach, President-elect Harding's house boat Victoria headed up the Indian river this afternoon for a virtually uninterrupted run to St. Augustine, where the president-elect will spend most of February.

With her arrival here the Victoria had passed the worst part of her course up the coast and her skipper said he looked for no more trouble from mud banks which have delayed the boat during the past two days. If she has good luck she probably will reach Raytona or Ormond Sunday and steam into St. Augustine sometime today.

Held Informal Reception.

The president-elect left the house boat several miles below Palm Beach this morning and came up to the hotel pier here on a speed boat belonging to J. Leonard Repligle, the steer magistrate. He held an informal reception at the hotel and went out in a chilly, driving rain and played golf with Mr. Repligle, Senator Frelinghuysen, owner of the Victoria, and Peter Finley Dunne, the author.

Later the party had luncheon at the cottage of J. F. Frazier of Chicago a friend of Senator Frelinghuysen. During Mr. Harding's stop here it became known that although he declined to attend the charity ball to be given in Washington at inauguration time he had obtained permission for the United States marine band to furnish the music. The request was sent to Washington several days ago and an acquiescence has been received from Secretary Daniels.

WHOLESALEERS WILL BE PERMITTED TO SELL OFF LIQUOR

However, They Must Sell it to Wholesale Drug Trade Only

SEVERAL NEW RULINGS MADE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—District prohibition directors were instructed by Commissioner Kramer tonight to permit wholesale dealers to sell the liquor in their possession to wholesale druggists. Attorney General Palmer's recent opinion prohibits the wholesale dealers from selling liquor, but prohibition officials declared an exception had been made to permit the dealers to dispose of their stocks already withdrawn from bond.

Acquisition of the wholesale dealers' valuable supply of liquor by the wholesale druggists was indicated, may enable the prohibition forces to keep the present ban against withdrawals of liquor in force for some time as it would postpone the exhaustion of the stocks necessary to meet the needs of the retail druggists.

Representatives of a number of former distillers conferred today with Commissioners Williams and Kramer on the question of status of liquor stored by a distiller who had since gone out of business as a manufacturer.

Commissioner Williams said that the new regulations would probably consider such liquor his property as a manufacturer within the meaning of the attorney general's opinion and its sale would be legal.

WOMAN'S DEATH WAS RESULT OF ANAESTHETICS

This is Story of Mother Accused of Her Daughter's Death

ADMINISTERED IT WITH OWN HAND

(By The Associated Press)
LAWTON, Mich., Feb. 4.—Maude Taber Virgo, whose death here five years ago resulted in a manslaughter charge against her 82 year old mother, died from an anesthetic, self-administered to relieve pain incident to childbirth, Mrs. Sarah Taber, the mother, said in a statement from her sick bed here today. The aged woman, whose first trial nearly a year ago resulted in a disagreement is believed to be dying following injuries in a fall three weeks ago.

Mrs. Taber declared her daughter had a premonition of death and pleaded with her not to permit her body to be taken to a cemetery. She added that she placed the body in Maude's hope chest and lowered it into the basement of the Taber home by means of ropes held around door posts. The body was found long afterward in the chest buried under a pile of shingles.

"The day before she died," said Mrs. Taber, "she cried over and over again: 'You won't ever let them take me away from you.' I spent the greater part of the last night with Maude holding her hand and assuring her I would obey her request."

The inhaled great quantities of chloroform to relieve pain, Mr. Taber said, and added: "One time when I left the room for a few minutes she must have taken more of it than she realized for I found her body rigid."

"I left the body lying on the bed for about a day. I do not remember just how long. The more I reflected on it the more I became convinced I ought to bury the body in the basement. Maude always had a horror of the conventional funeral, the ostentation and all that. So I placed the body in the hope chest and lowered it into the basement myself."

WOULD CONFIRM ARMY OFFICERS WILSON NAMED

Steps Are Taken Looking Toward Their Con- firmation

SOME PROBABLY WILL BE TURNED DOWN

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Steps looking to confirmation by the senate of proposed promotion of army officers below the grade of Brigadier General were taken late today by Republican leaders who indicated however, that confirmation could not be expected of eleven major and twenty-two brigadier generals selected by President Wilson.

Nominations of several thousand army officers of the grade of Colonel and below, upon request of Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, were referred to the military committee of which he is chairman. Their early confirmation, at least in large part, is planned.

Senators Robinson of Arkansas and Swanson of Virginia, both Democrats, complained vigorously against the Republican plan of holding up confirmation of the eleven major generals and twenty-two brigadier generals nominated.

Charges Politics.

Senator Robinson asked that all army nominations be sent to the military committee for consideration and when Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah objected he charged that politics was being "injected" into army promotions.

Senator Robinson declared that refusal to consider the nominations of generals "was a humiliation and disgrace, a reflection on every gallant soldier in the list."

Denying that any reflection was cast upon the general officers, Senator Lodge said that the country "had not forgotten the politics that kept Theodore Roosevelt from going to France and that kept General Leonard Wood at home."

"There has been favoritism and some injustice," he added, stating that the next president should be allowed to look over the list of general officers recommended for promotions.

OFFICIALS PAY TRIBUTE TO MANY YEARS OF SERVICE

Negro Messenger Fifty Years in the Treasury De- partment

SERVED MANY HEADS OF DEPARTMENT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Treasury officials including Secretary Houston and former Secretary Glass tonight paid tribute to fifty years of faithful public service on the part of Richard Greene, a negro altho born a slave, has acted as chief messenger for twenty treasury department heads.

Ceremonies in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of Greene's entrance into his present position were held at his home. Former Secretary Glass, now senator from Virginia in presenting a watch to Greene on behalf of the treasury officials described the aged messenger as a negro of the old fashioned type, as perfect a specimen of a real gentleman as one can come in contact with in any race.

A letter was read from Secretary Houston who wrote Greene as follows:
"You have been courteous, you have been obliging; you have been industrious; you have been honest; you have also been loyal. You are loyal to those whom you now serve; you are loyal to those whom you have served. Such qualities make a good citizen."

NAVAL OFFICERS AT VARIANCE ON VALUE OF CAPITAL SHIP

Rear Admiral Badger Says That Battleships and Cruisers Will be Backbone of Fleet For Many Years—Army Chief Says That Air Ship Makes Surface Navies Obsolete

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Satisfied from testimony of a large number of witnesses that calling of an international conference to discuss disarmament would meet with general approval, the house naval committee today called before it ten high officers of the navy and one of the army and heard a vast amount of divergent and confusing testimony as to whether aircraft had made capital naval vessels useless.

Before the committee settled down to listen to the officers, however, Chairman Badger announced positively that an international disarmament conference would be called by the country. He did not say what the call would go on but it was assumed that it would be shortly after President-elect Harding takes office.

Rear Admiral William S. Sims, war-time commander of all American naval forces in European waters and present head of the naval war college, the first witness called, counseled against immediate abandonment of the capital ship. He added however, that if aerial forces demonstrated the value he expected they would soon make surface craft useless. He opposed continuing work on the great 1916 naval building and declared "nobody is going to take his hand off his gun, until conditions become settled in Europe."

Defends Battleships.

The superiority of the battleship over either the airplane or submarine was defended by Rear-Admiral Charles J. Badger, head of the general board and former commander of the Atlantic fleet who declared that battleships and battle cruisers would remain the backbone of the fleet for years to come.

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, chief of training and operations of the army air service, told the committee that it was a simple matter for his forces to destroy a battleship and said that aerial developments had made surface navies obsolete. Several Mitchell cleared up one point that had been causing the committee some wonderment all day when he declared that data supplied by navy officials to be secret but disclosed by him for a second committee had been secured by army officers who attended the meeting of the old battleship Indiana at the invitation of Secretary Daniels.

General Mitchell was on the stand when the session concluded and will continue his testimony tomorrow.

All of the naval officers who testified stressed the necessity for the immediate construction of high speed air plane carrying ships.

While the house committee heard this testimony, the senate naval sub-committee drafted an adverse report on the resolution presented by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, providing for a six months suspension of naval building while experts study the best types of ships.

A visitor from Buenos Aires says that gun-toting is the rule in that city and that a minimum number of crimes are committed. Chicago might try out this plan.

if bank and highway robberies continue.

The blue law advocates are getting a great deal more advertising than their cause justifies. Cartoonists have been busy for weeks ridiculing the blue law movement and now an anti-blue law organization has been incorporated. Surely the movement had not developed enough of an organization to be taken so seriously.

There is the story that Governor Small thru the agency of a new enforcement law to be put thru the legislature, will assume the task of making prohibition effective in this state. It is said that Attorney General Brundage much prefers to have the enforcement machinery operating from his office. Thus the prospect is excellent for a rigid and proper enforcement of the prohibition measure in this state.

One large Illinois business concern, according to its annual statement, lost about $8,000,000 in the operation of its business the past year. The firm was fortunate in having a surplus fund from which this big sum was taken. Now its managers propose to go ahead on a new basis and will no doubt show a reasonable business profit from this time forth.

It looks like the farmer who received big prices for his products last year and so added to his surplus fund, will this year be compelled to take his medicine just in the same way as did the merchant of yore. The figures are not so large but the principle is the same.

Nobody can deny that education is one of the fundamental needs of this state. The facts also seem to show that, considered on a per capita basis, Illinois is not doing as much for the educational cause as is true in many other states. But there must be some limit to taxation and the educational enthusiasts who are now asking a $20,000,000 distributive fund should be willing to attain that high mark by degrees instead of seeking to bring it to pass by one advance.

The tax question has always been a subject of great concern to the average property holder. So many additions have been made these days for one good cause and another, that the concern is definitely increasing.

In some controversies between capital and labor the employers are at fault and in other instances the workers themselves. In these present days when conditions constantly bring to attention the relationships between capital and labor, mistakes are being made on both sides. Some industrial managers, while millions are unemployed, are showing a desire to increase the hours of labor in their employ.

Certainly this does not seem good policy at this time, for better results can come to society as a whole if more people are employed. Manifestly, the lengthening of the day's work will serve to make the unemployment problem the more serious. But it is equally true that the employer who seeks to solve the question by doing as little work as possible in hours or his day, is also making a mistake.

Talking about taxes, certainly some change is needed in the assessment plans which will encourage the lending of money at home. The man who wants to invest in land locally these days, unless he has the money, faces a difficult situation, for it is by no means an easy thing to secure funds on real estate mortgages. The reason is plain. The person who lends money on such a mortgage and then reports it to the assessor, pays a state, county and city tax of about 3 1/2 per cent.

Then if there is a income tax the net return to the investor is unsatisfactorily small. It's not surprising under these conditions that huge sums of money have gone out of Morgan county during the past twelve months for investment in government securities, not subject to taxation, and yielding 5 per cent or better.

TREMENDOUS DECLINE OF FREIGHT

What has happened to the freight traffic of the railways is strikingly indicated by statistics regarding the loading of freight cars within recent weeks," says the Railway Age in its current issue.

In October the number of carloads of freight loaded averaged about one million a week. In the first week ending January 22 the average number of cars loaded weekly was 679,551. This represents a decline since the peak was reached in October of almost exactly one-third. As a result of this decline of business the railways on January 23 had a car surplus of 301,000, and this has been steadily increasing.

The statistics regarding earnings and expenses in January are not available, but the reduction of both total and net earnings which occurred coincidentally with this decline of one-third in freight movement will be shown, when the statistics are available, to have been very large.

The statistics regarding car loadings show clearly that the country is not very generally taking advantage of the surplus railway capacity available to "ship now." For a period of many months there were loud complaints that shippers could not get sufficient cars in which to ship their goods. The railways might now with equal pertinence complain loudly that they cannot get enough freight with which to load their cars. Car shortages cause heavy losses to the business concerns that cannot ship goods when they want to, but car surpluses likewise cause heavy losses to railways when they cannot get freight to haul in their cars.

"When there is another large shortage of cars, as in course of time there will be, it is hoped that those who could cause the shipments of freight now, but who are not doing so because prices or other conditions are unsatisfactory to them, will not forget the present period during which the railways are suffering tremendous losses because of the failure of those who could 'ship now' to do so."

THE MARIONETTES ARE COMING

Lillian Owen's Marionettes, direct from Neighborhood playhouse, New York and a long run in and around Boston are coming to Jacksonville from a St. Louis engagement for a matinee and evening performance on Tuesday, Feb. 15 at the David Prince Gymnasium. Rotary brings them to give Jacksonville a chance to see the novel and unique puppets which have been so popular in the East. Any profit from the performances will be used at the Rotary Camp-Cottage at Merced which is maintained for free outings for organized groups of young people of Morgan county.

What is a marionette? Literary Digest answers "The oldest plaything in the world, the acting doll, doing all things that live people spend their best energies trying to do on the stage and doing it much better, more richly and effectively." The marionette range in size from eighteen inches to three feet. They sing, talk and dance. Their actions are controlled by wires which are manipulated by trained actors hidden from view and these actors also say the speeches for the puppets. Of course, the stage, scenic and lighting effects play a large part in the presentation.

Miss Owen, who is an artist, painted the landscapes and palaces for the plays, dressed the various marionettes and put arms and legs and heads on them and brought them to a place where a pull of the wires brings them to life—even winks their eyes. Her work is most highly commended by magazines, newspapers and reviews.

One man is the entire orchestra. Surrounded by tin whistles and coconut shells, a megaphone, an African drum, a Chinese wind-harp and a most curious little pipe organ he produces the strange medley of sounds that come from behind the curtains.

The afternoon performance will include the circus stunts of Sambo and his mule, the playful antics of a Rabbit Quartet, the funny Polly and Her Pals, and Jack and the Beanstalk in three acts with Jack, his Mother, her Cow, the Giant, the Giant's wife and the Beanstalk. This performance will be at 3:30 and children in the public schools will be allowed to leave school in time to attend.

The evening performance will introduce Mimmi, a three-hundred year old Italian marionette flirt and dancer, Genie, Alice Brown, from the Ballads, using puppets after the original illustrations of W. S. Gilbert, and Hynd Horn, a whimsical medieval romance in two acts and four scenes showing a palace garden, a ship on the seas, a royal festival hall, with the Princess Jean, Hynd Horn, her lover, the Old Beggar Man, The King, the King's Chamberlain, the Pompous Prince and the Prince's Attendant.

The productions are marvellous in scenic effects and rich in artistry. The scenes are by Michael Carr, associate of Gordon Craig, son of Ellen Terry. The company includes Miss Owen and five associate artists.

Tickets. Matinee $1, students 50 cents, including war tax. Evening $1.50, students $1.

BRADSTREET'S WILL SAY TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:
"Improvement, slow and cautious, is still the key word in the distributive branches of the leading apparel trades which led in January and are still in the van of what progress is visible in the general trade and industrial situation. Less decided progress or actual recessions, however, still characterize some of the big basic lines, as, for instance, iron and steel, coal and lumber and impart an irregular tone to the general situation. Mail order trade is not equal to a year ago.
Industry still suffers from the blight of unemployment and numerous reports of resumption or of increases in time worked in some lines are partly balanced by reductions in improvements in others notably the railroads, due to a lessened traffic."

MAYOR URGES OBSERVANCE OF FATHER AND SON WEEK
To the People of Jacksonville:

Because it has an important bearing on civic welfare in Jacksonville, as well as on individual welfare in countless cases, I feel it my duty to call attention to the well-conceived plan for a "Father and Son Week."

The purpose is admirable. Anything that tends to bring father and son together in friendly spirit can not but be beneficial to themselves and to the community.

I believe that fathers can do more than any others to stem the great and alarming tide of "dropping out" of school, which carries many boys out into the world unfit for progress and prosperity or public service.

Many boys grow to manhood virtually ignorant of even the simplest processes of government. These every father can explain to his son. The son, in every case should become better than his father, for that marks progress.

The "Week" that is coming will suggest many ways in which fathers may gain more completely the confidence of their sons, with all that means of effective guidance and unrepresented control.

I, therefore, call upon the fathers of this city and request their co-operation in this important movement by attending with their sons at least one of the meetings to be held during the "Father and Son Week."

hope the men who have no sons will befriend the boys who have no fathers.

E. E. CRABTREE, Mayor.

COMMITTEES REPORTS
HEARD BY ROTARIANS

Business Session Held at Friday Luncheon—Satisfactory Work Done.

The Friday session of the Rotary club at the Pacific hotel was given over to reports from various committees. E. R. Riley, vice president, asked Judge H. P. Samuel, chairman of the entertainment committee to preside. T. M. Tolson spoke briefly for the fellowship committee, recounting some of the plans carried out for fellowship promotion. Three programs during the year laid special emphasis upon educational work, according to the statement made by Dr. J. R. Harker, who is chairman of the educational committee.

The boys' work committee report was presented by Frank J. Heini, chairman. It was explained that the committee had deemed it best to postpone the consideration of an all-time Scout officer for the county until after the Red Cross survey on recreational work is available. It was the original expectation that this report would be ready in December, but it has not yet been received. However, there is assurance that within a very short time the facts contained in this report can be brought before the club and the committee.

John J. Roewe made a report for the committee on relation with national headquarters. He stated the various requirements have been met. John S. Hackett as chairman of the finance committee for the Mercedosa bay club house project, made his report. The full expenditure of something more than $4,000 has not been made. The plans are under way for the completion of the financial program.

V. R. Riley as chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds gave an interesting statement with reference to the Mercedosa bay property. More than 100 boys and girls were entertained there last fall, altho the building was not ready for service until the latter days of the season. Most of the equipment has been installed and indications already go to prove that the club house will be in strong demand this season.

FATHERS AND SONS
BANQUETS BEGIN

First in Series of These Events at Brooklyn Church.

The first of the father and sons banquet arranged by Jacksonville churches was that given Friday night at Brooklyn church. It was a very successful event and made its full contribution to a better understanding between the fathers and sons of Jacksonville. There were 25 or more present and they found the banquet as prepared by the home department of Sunday school all the word impulses. Mrs. J. A. Walters is superintendent of the home department and J. H. Reid had much to do in purchase of the supplies for the banquet.

The invocation was by Rev. G. W. Randle and after the menu had been served, Mr. Randle acted acceptably as toastmaster. There were three 3-minute addresses. "Our Home" was discussed by J. H. Reid, "Our City" by Mayor E. E. Crabtree and "Our Country" by Victor Sheppard. Each of these speakers had something worth while to suggest. Then came four 4-minute speeches on the general theme of partners, as follows: "In spirit," by T. B. Reeve; "At Home" by D. J. Staley; "In Business" by G. B. Kendall and "In the Sunday School and Church" by Frank Boura. All of these speakers laid emphasis upon the good results that come from real comradeship between fathers and sons.

The interesting program was interspersed with music on an Edison graphophone and there was also mass singing.

JOHN W. KING DIED
SUDDENLY LAST NIGHT

Well Known Colored Resident Passes Away at Home on West College Street—Funeral Arrangements Have Not Been Made.

John W. King, one of the best known colored residents of the city, died suddenly at his home, 503 West College street, at 11 o'clock Friday night. Mr. King had apparently been in his usual health Friday and was at his barber shop, located in the basement of the building occupied by the Express company, during the day. He remarked to a customer in the afternoon that he was feeling unusually well.

Deceased was born in Jacksonville about 34 years ago and his early life was spent there. He was united in marriage to Miss Florence Kirk of this city, and has since made his home here. He was well known as a barber and conducted shops at the Pacific and Dunlap hotels and in his present location.

He was a member of Mallory Lodge No. 30, Knights of Pythias, and for many years has served as Master of Exchequer of the lodge and was one of its most enthusiastic workers.

Besides his widow he is survived by one son, Carl, of Decatur, his aged father and a number of brothers and sisters residing in Jacksonville.

The remains were removed to the Reynolds mortuary and prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

D. O. K. K. TEMPLES ARE VISITED BY O. VAUGHT

Represents Imperial Prince at Mattoon and Danville—Find Fine Body of Men at Both Places.

L. O. Vaught returned yesterday afternoon from an official visit to the D. O. K. K. temples located at Mattoon and Danville. Imperial Prince Harry W. Nice had expected to visit these temples but when he reached St. Louis Tuesday he found a telegram calling him immediately to Baltimore. In this emergency he wired Mr. Vaught to represent him.

At Mattoon Wednesday evening there was an open meeting of the temple attended not only by Pythians in general, but by their lady friends also. At least 200 were out to welcome the Imperial Prince. Of course they were disappointed but like the good fellows they are everybody turned in to make the meeting a success and it certainly was a successful meeting.

A delightful program of music and speeches was carried through. Mattoon has the largest Pythian lodge in Illinois and naturally, one of the best temples in Illinois, now having over 300 members. Mr. Vaught in speaking of the men there said that he had never seen a temple so like the temple here. Evidently the leading citizens of Mattoon make up the order there. They are planning to take at least 50 men to Chattanooga next August to the meeting of the Imperial Palace.

At Danville Thursday evening there was another splendid meeting at which Judge A. A. Partlow, past grand chancellor of Illinois, presided. R. Allen Stephens, grand prelate of Illinois, and secretary for a number of years of the Illinois State Bar Association, made a most enthusiastic talk on the prospects of Kal Mura Temple. That temple has had some hard sledding but is now in splendid condition. Their drill team has recently been organized and is planning to attend the Chattanooga meeting, along with a large number of other local Dokays. The team made their first public appearance Thursday evening and while showing the lack of drill acquitted themselves creditably and will be heard from later on.

At both Mattoon and Danville Mr. Vaught suggested the possibility of the temples at Jacksonville, Springfield, Danville and Mattoon joining in a special train to Chattanooga and the idea met instant favor. These four temples could easily make up a special and the pleasure of the trip going and coming would be greatly increased for all. Committees will shortly be appointed to see what can be done along this line.

JACKSONVILLE PLAYS
GRIGGSVILLE TONIGHT

Locals Clash With Fast Pike County Team In David Prince Gymnasium—Locals Lost to Them In Griggsville by a Close Score.

Coach Mitchell's high school five will return from Alton this morning and this evening will meet the Griggsville five in David Prince gymnasium.

The teams played at Griggsville some time ago and Griggsville won by a small score. The locals are hoping to reverse that decision this evening.

Coach Mitchell was not well pleased with the work of his men at Alton last night but hopes they will show a reversal of form tonight and take the visitors into camp.

It is probable that he will start the same line-up, Woods and Alexander, forwards; Hunter, center; Gard and Mawson, guards. However, it may be that he will shift his line-up at the start of the game.

The game will be called at 8 o'clock. Coach Harmon of Illinois College, will officiate.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT WOODSON CHURCH CLOSING
The special services which have been in progress at the Woodson Christian church for several weeks past closed Friday night. At the close of the service last night nine converts were baptised and others are to be baptised at an early date.

Some special services for tomorrow have been announced by the pastor, Rev. I. H. Fuller. At 11 o'clock the pastor will deliver a fathers and sons' day sermon from the theme, "Is a Young Man Safe in This Community?" At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a service for the new converts. There will be a brief sermon from the theme, "What then shall this child be?" and the new members will be presented to the congregation. At the noon hour there will be a luncheon in the basement of the church.
